RELIGIOUS DOGMAS.

Increasing Interest in the World's Parliament of Religions.

INVOLUNTARY TRIBUTE TO AN INDIAN.

Graphic Picture of the History of Religion—A Greek Divine With a Weak Voice—The Catholic View—Other Beliefs.

CHICAGO Sept. 14.—So general an interest was manifested in the World's Parliament of Religions yesterday that it was found necessary to arrange for overflow meetings in the smaller halls.

In the Hall of Columbus, Protaphander Mazouder of India, delivered an earnest address in the English language, and which aroused so much at the time when he had concluded the applause compelled him to return to the front of the platform and bow his thanks, the scene being emphasized by the immense audience rising to their feet and singing "Nearer My God, to Thee."

Picturing the history of religion in India he told in graphic language of how women had been burned to death on the funeral pyres of their husbands, and related the history of the crusades against the burning of widows. Theology he argued, meant nothing without morality, and the marriage of people of different castes, although morally approved, was bound to come before the interests of morality and humanity. The practice of child marriage also was gradually being reformed, but at the same time a strong punishment was needed and especially as numerous interests had interfered to the detriment of this moral reform.

A representative of the Greek church, Archbishop Dionysius Ladas of Zante, Greece, was the next speaker. Expressing his gratification at finding himself in the company of so many distinguished men, he spoke for over an hour on the history of his own church, arguing that Greece had laid the foundation of the original Christian church. Unfortunately the distinguished visitor was unfamiliar with the English language, and as he repeated the services of his church, his remarks were unintelligible to the bulk of the audience while the weakness of his voice made them difficult to be understood beyond the platform itself.

In treating upon man from a Catholic point of view Father Wm Byrne, of Cincinnati, was exceedingly eloquent. He held that man was created with a great purpose and a high aim, and that it never had been and never could be demonstrated that man was the result of evolution. If his ambitions and aspirations were never to be gratified in this world or the world to come, it must be admitted that man was the most incomplete thing in creation. Dr Byrne was warmly applauded.

In the congress of the Congregational church, women's work among the Indians was discussed by a number of speakers.

Christ's nature of salvation the Bible and the problem of sin were the subjects talked over in the Universalist congress.

The Lutherans discussed foreign mission work and church extension, while the Episcopalians discussed the church of Christ in the first century with the church of the future. Dr O. P. Haley, of Kansas City, presided over the latter congress.

A BIG DAY AT THE FAIR.

Michigan Day—Gov. McKinley—The Swimming Contest.

WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Michigan took a hand in the state festivities yesterday and sustained her position creditably. Gov. McKinley and his staff were present, to gather with seven ex-governors, senators, congressmen and politicians of all beliefs. Thousands of Wolverines listened to a concert in the state building at 9 a. m., by St. Joe and the Detroit Novelty band, and were entertained by President Palmer in one of his witty speeches. He was followed by ex-Governors Alpheus Felch, Austin Blair, Russell A. Alger, Cyrus C. Lund, and Edwin B. Wilson, Dr. Dickinson, President J. E. Angell, Congressman J. G. Burrows and J. A. Hubbell. All the Michigan men spoke briefly and to the point each finding some word of praise for his state and the exposition.

At 2 o'clock a vocal and instrumental concert was given on the north side of the building. At 4 o'clock the governor and his staff received, and last night there was a ball and fireworks and a brilliant illumination of the state building.

THE ROBBERS SEEN

And Pursued a Short Distance by a Sheriff's posse

WITH A LIVELY EXCHANGE OF SHOTS.

The Sheriff's posse being about, Completed to Give Up the Chase—A Second Posse in Hot Pursuit.

Toledo, O., Sept. 14.—A special to the Commercial from Oskan, Ind. says a dispute from Keweenaw, a little town in Whitley county about sixty miles from Oskan, and along the line of the Nickel Plate, says that a ruthless attempt to capture five of the Kendallville team robbers was made at that place at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Ever since the robbery occurred a sharp lookout has been kept for the robbers. Yesterday afternoon, between 4 and 5 o'clock, a mounted man about 35 years old, mounted on a tired-looking pony, covered with dust and dirt and wearing a slouch hat with the rim thrown back, rode in at the gateway of the farm which is known as the Ford place, owned by James Stansbury and asked for something to eat. The peculiar appearance of the man and his nervous manner aroused Mr. Stansbury's suspicions, and while not daring to refuse him outright he hesitated, and entering the house called his wife to the door, thereupon the negro with a threatening glance called out to the man to get out of the house. "I am going to pay for it I've got money," at the same time pulling from his pocket a well filled purse. "I want something to eat, and I want all you've got," he said, and then he turned rapidly to explain that he had ridden ahead of four companies and that they would be along in a few minutes. "We are going to stay in town and shoot you dead," he said, and then he turned to the man and said, "I am going to pay for it I've got money," at the same time pulling from his pocket a well filled purse. "I want something to eat, and I want all you've got," he said, and then he turned rapidly to explain that he had ridden ahead of four companies and that they would be along in a few minutes.

Mr. Stansbury then thoroughly frightened, but not daring to leave the farm, he held the man in the kitchen, and the man, who was armed with a revolver, managed to get into the kitchen, and the man, who was armed with a revolver, managed to get into the kitchen.

Thirty-One Thousand Certificates Issued. WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 14.—Chief Clerk G. W. Jacobs of the general land office who directs all the movements of the Cherokee strip registration and land office officials from here, says that up to Tuesday night a little less than 31,000 certificates of registration had been issued from the several booths at Arkansas City, where the only serious overcrowding seems to exist. He had decided to put on a night force of clerks and had made arrangements to that effect, that hereafter it will be an easy matter to register 5,000 to 6,000 people during the twenty-four hours. At both Orlando and Hannemann, Okla., the clerks have been ordered into service.

"Sooners" Who Were Too Soon. OKLAHOMA, Sept. 14.—Fifty-three sooners with certificates were captured by soldiers Tuesday. They pleaded innocence, but the officers in charge confiscated the certificates and will hold them prisoners until after the opening.

Two candidates for mayor of the future towns are in the field on Voluntary. The clerks at the Voluntary and the other from Indiana. The men in line amuse themselves with political debates.

The clerks at the Hennessy have been increased to meet the unexpected rush. Ten thousand were expected to register at the nine booths yesterday. Reports show that 50,000 people have been registered up to Tuesday night. The clerks will be kept open day and night as long as necessary.

THE BAPTIST JUBILEE

Services Commemorating the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Church.

Review of the History of the Society—Started with 12 Members, Now 651—Notes.

This is a day and a time of lively interest to all members and friends of the First Baptist church, which was organized Sept. 14, 1848, with 12 members, and now a powerful force in the community.

This is the golden or fiftieth anniversary of the history of the church and it is made a time of jubilee and rejoicing.

Of the twelve original members only three are living. They are Mrs. Eliza beth Read, widow of Dr. Read, David Brett and Lemuel Allen, the latter coming from Missouri to attend the service of the church. Preparatory services were held in the chapel of the church with the prayer meeting. Every chair was occupied, and the pastor, Rev. O. E.

Torrey, led the service. Rev. Fred G.
Torrey, of Chicago, and Rev. Geo. B.
Voorburg, of Elgin, former pastors, were present. Both spoke feelingly of the past, the present and the future. The first five and the last four verses of the 92nd Psalm were read by the pastor in opening the service of "Remembrance and Gratitude," and he offered appropriate comments and remarks. He was followed by the reading of the history of the church, which was read by Rev. J. N.

Hay, Mrs. M. E. Wood, Mrs. J. N.
Wood, Mrs. James E. Wood, J. E. Barton, O. L. Hovey, Mrs. Elizabeth Read and other members of the church. At the close of the meeting short prayers were offered and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Torrey. Then followed a social session, everybody pressing forward to greet the visiting pastors.

JUBILEE DAY
The audience room of the church was crowded this afternoon, when the service began at 2 o'clock. Devotional exercises, the church history, organization, Sunday school history by E. A. Gastman women's work by Mrs. A. F. Johnson young people's work by J. N. Martin, Jr. remembrance by former pastors and members were the features of the service. Reports were also heard from the Y. P. S. O. E., the Ladies' Aid Society, the East Park Chapel, the Women's Forgiveness Society, the King's daughters, the Forget Me Not Band and the Young Ladies' Guild and International Society.

HISTORY OF THE CHURCH
The pastor, Rev. O. E. Torrey gave a statement covering the history of the church from September 14, 1848. The substance of the address is given below.

The history of the Baptist church begins in Decatur with occasional religious services held as early as 1843 by Rev.

W. Dodge, who was then pastor of the church at Springfield. The result of these meetings was the conversion of ten or twelve persons. The church was organized in the Sangamon river becoming members of the Springfield church. They

SEVERAL AFTER SPRINGER'S PLACE

Managers, of Mason, Reported to be one of a Number of Congressional Aspirants.

Bloomington Bulletin.
Senator Hume, of Mason county, was a capital visitor Monday. He has made several visits to Springfield of late, and there is some reason to believe that they are due, in part, to the fact that Mason and Sangamon counties are now in the same congressional district.

Indeed, it may be stated on the authority of a prominent Decatur Democrat that if the Senator is not an out and out Democratic candidate for congress now, there is every probability that he will soon be one. He is a man of the people, and there are those who think that with energy, he could win a great favor among the farmers of the district. Word also came from Decatur that C. A. Ewing, a young lawyer of that city, and a cousin of Vice President Stevenson, has an ambition to acquire a seat in the national house of representatives. Langley Whitley, of Springfield, and a member of the house of representatives in the Thirty eighth general assembly, is already an active candidate for congress, and the name of the prominent Democrat of Logan county is frequently heard in the same connection. When asked about the matter a few days ago he neither affirmed or denied that he was thinking of becoming a candidate, but declared with some confidence that it was yet rather early to talk about it. Meanwhile Mr. Springer is "sowing seed" in Washington and leaving his interests in the hands of his friends at home. Those professing to believe that their favorite incumbent will easily become his own successor. They are right, but the indications now are that he will have a walk away in securing the nomination the next time.

The Limited Mail Elmer E. Vance's railroad drama, "The Limited Mail," will be seen to-morrow evening at the Grand. It has been played over a thousand times throughout the country. The wonderful mechanical effects of "The Limited Mail" make it one of the strongest attractions of the kind on the road. It is a graphically drawn picture of life on the rail, and in the performance are employed some of the most remarkable and successful pieces of mechanical art. The flight of the limited mail is said to be the best railroad scene ever presented on the stage. The engine and train dash across the stage exploding a warring torpedo stopping in the cut beyond and backing to the station.

Gone to Conference
Rev. J. A. F. King, of the Decatur U.
B. church, and treasurer of the general litigation fund of the church, will leave to-morrow morning for Fowler, Ill. to be present at the session of the Illinois U.

B. Conference, which will be in progress next week. Bishop Hoy will preside.

Rev. King's presence at the conference will be in the interest of the litigation fund. The seeders are still fighting the Liberals of the U. B. church in a number of states. In Illinois one case from Livingston county is now in the Illinois supreme court, and it is expected that the Liberals will get a favorable and deciding decision at the October term.

Not Enthusiastic
It is quite evident that the people of McLean county are not hungry for the state fair. The county board is in session there, and there has been more or less talk about what would be done to get the fair. The people of the county
